CONGRESS, AS IT IS SEEN BY SOME PEOPLE.

The present Congress is not overburdened with statesmen. The politician is conspicuous when business which includes the present and a future to millions of people is subject to discussion. Clay, Webster and others who possessed mental ability and the genius of statesmen have no successors. Sentences like those that flowed from their lips, giving truth in oratorical power, are not used where they stood declaring principles as they understood them, uninfluenced by mercenary motives or the ambition of a small politician.

The honest contention of intellectual grants over the application of fundamental principles pertaining to the structure of the republic and the right of the people, has lost its charm, because it is no more present. The flashings of mental genius that made clear, through statesmanship, the dark places belong to the past. The power of mental dissection of intricate constitutional problems and their application to a system of honest government and true democracy, no more appear in the halls of a national law-making body.

Persuasion flowing from wisdom expressed, and the confidence it brings to satisfy the mind through conviction that the subject under review has received the best thought of a statesman, is not a result of the arguments of those in the majority. Nor can it well be so, because there is not anything said that leads to a conclusion that the speakers had sought and received light when analyzing the subject presented that includes principles, whose weight is balanced by truth.

The Porto Rican tariff question, which has been disposed of adversely to free trade with the island, presented questions that required the most careful consideration and deliberation to avoid a mistake in the application of principles, that error might be avoided. Questions respecting the future government of late acquired territory, including a new departure from accustomed usage in the application of government to new territory inhabited by civilized people, should have been disposed of in the most careful manner, having in view always the right and the best interests of the territory and of the people thereon to whom government was sought to be applied; but there was no such consideration or disposition of the question.

From the beginning of the work in Congress to develop and apply a system of government to the island, party considerations and the interests of those, under the cover of revenue, who might lose or gain money by the application of principles, seemed to be and was the sole consideration of the majority in Congress.

Politics, and not principles, was the chief moving consideration in the disposition of the questions that were presented for solution upon a theory consistent with our form of government and the application of its principles, assuring freedom to those under its authority. When principles have ceased to receive consideration and application to government, and politics has become the only consideration, the decadence of the republic is upon us, and should it continue there will be added in the near future to the mass of evidence given in history that the required intelligence is not present to sustain self government.

The causes that led to the overthrow of ancient republics is found to have had their origin in too much ignorance in the mass of the people and for that reason there was not present the required care to protect principles and prevent innovation by those whose object it was to make government subject to their personal ambition and purpose. An admission that we are receiving unquestionable evidence of our weakness as a self-governing people is not in the light of history flattering to our intelligence but to deny the truth would be an advance in the direction we are tending.

When the truth is known and admitted by the friends of the republic there will be hope for its future maintenance as it will show there is sufficient intelligence to comprehend the evil that has overtaken it since the visitation of the money power which is now its head and the all controlling and directing agent of its policy which is, chiefly to exclude any application of its principles. When there is considered from a position that gives light to review in a dispassionate way such, as the influence and happenings under pressure of influence will permit the late work of a United States Congress in passing the Porto Rican bill favors, more of a bargain and sale than anything there has been accomplished by a like law making body since the first application of the principles of freedom was made as directed by the constitution.

THE "REPORT" MEANS WELL.

In the issue of April 3d of the Evening Report there is an article that contains good suggestions and good sense about the future political action of silver men in the State. We know politics in Nevada and know the men who have run the political band wagon for years, know their purpose, their motive and their size. If there is anything outside of self in the State of Nevada that a moss back cares anything about that the most powerful magnifying glass could cause to be seen it would be a surprise to any citizen of the State to learn about who is not of them. Go on John and make suggestions as you think it is fit to make them, as your late article indicates; you will be a man some day who will be heard from, but do not think that you will succeed in getting through the head of a moss back anything that is reasonable, because there is no place for it and it will of a necessity remain outside. More particularly will it have to remain outside when Charlie Wallace is pointing the way.

THE LADIES ARE PLEASED

The Millinery Stores Have Eastern Goods on Exhibition This Week.

This has been "ladies' week" in Reno. The several millinery establishments in town had their spring openings simultaneously, and the fair sex turned out in force to witness the display, which is said to be one of the best seen in Reno for a number of years.

The exhibition of Miss E. G. Gibbs is strictly up to date, and was much admired Wednesday. Mrs. C. F. Murphy has a beautiful selection of hats, and it has been highly praised by everyone. The display of Miss E. R. Richards was somewhat of a revelation, in that it contained a number of new creations in the milliner's art. Miss Richards is a recent arrival from San Francisco and intends remaining in Reno permanently. Her millinery rooms are located over Emrich's store, on Virginia street.

Good sales are reported from each of these establishments, and Reno may look for a treat in millinery on Easter, which falls on Sunday, April 15th.

Will Make a Special Effort.
Editor Van Duzer of the Nevada Magazine accounts for the non-appearance for his publication last month with the explanation that his duties as District Attorney have confused him closely to the courtroom lately and that he has had no time to devote to literary matters. Further, he states that as the February number would have closed the first volume, he had decided that a special effort this month to make the first number of volume two an extra creditable issue would be preferable to sending out two emergency numbers.

Republicans, Take Notice.

The Republican County Central Committee will meet at their headquarters in the Bank of Nevada building at 8 o'clock sharp, on Friday evening, April 6th, where, in conjunction with the members of the State Central Committee of the county, a ticket will be selected to be voted for at the primaries on April 7th, if deemed advisable. All Republicans are cordially invited to be present and participate in the selection of the ticket, if made.

H. B. MAXSON, Chairman.
W. A. FOGG, Secretary.

Business Briefs.

F. P. Dana has his entire time taken up with his education class and all his pupils report improvement.

The Wieland brewery is shipping beer to all parts of the State. About three carloads a week are sent out from the Reno agency.

The Monarch saloon has received another carload of that famous Anheuser-Busch beer.

Different People.

F. C. Updike of this city has recently received several letters from distant friends condoling him on his having fallen under the ban of the law. Of course everybody in Reno knows that F. C., the painter, is not the Updike that is languishing in the county jail and this fact is stated merely to inform the old gentlemen's friends at a distance that the painter Updike and the alleged confidence man Updike are two separate and distinct individuals.

Boring an Artesian Well.

A depth of about twenty-five feet was reached yesterday by the workmen engaged in boring the artesian well at the Experiment Station. It is expected that a flow will be reached within the next one hundred feet.

The supply will be used for drinking purposes on the University grounds. It is now necessary to bring the drinking water from a well south of the river.

Stubbs and Kruttschnitt Fired.

John C. Stubbs and Julius Kruttschnitt were dropped from the board of directors of the Southern Pacific Company at a meeting held in San Francisco Wednesday. They are succeeded by John A. Searles of the sugar trust and John D. Probst, a banker of New York.

LI HUNG CHANG'S HEAD IS IN DANGER.

The Dowager Empress Offers a Large Reward for His Cranium.

Special to the JOURNAL.

HONOLULU, March 29.—If the story told by Leung Chi Tso, the noted Chinese reformer now here, is true, old Li Hung Chang is in danger of losing his official Peacock Feather and probably his head.

Leung, in an open letter to the Chinese statesman, calls attention to a letter of sympathy sent him thirteen months ago by Li through Count Ito, the Japanese premier, and saying that before long China would welcome back the reformers to work out the great destiny of the empire. The dowager will probably behead Li. She has offered a reward of 65,000 li for the head of Lueng.

They Think Dewey is Joking.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Admiral Dewey's bid for the presidential nomination has struck Washington, and apparently the entire country, on its funny bone, and it will be impossible to have it taken seriously. Levy of New York is about the only Congressman who indorses the boom and nine out of ten men speak of it in ridicule or pity. Naval officers feel humiliated and sorrowful.

No one has come forward as father of the boom, but ex-Senator Gorman and John R. McLean are suspected, but both are silent.

The Roster of the Enemy.

Special to the JOURNAL.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 5.—Tomorrow the Freshmen track team leaves for Reno where they will try for the scalps of the State University team. The Californians are the following: McCaughey, Lyons, Smith, Hawley, Narramore, Fikirk, Pollars, Parker, Brooke, Dole and Beach.

Bryan is Heartily Endorsed.

Special to the JOURNAL.

HARRISBURG, April 5.—The Democratic convention today amid great enthusiasm elected delegates to the national convention and instructed them to vote for Bryan for president.

Instructed to Vote for McKinley.

ELLENSBERG, Wash., April 5.—The Republican state convention today elected eight delegates to the national convention.

A. R. De Fluente, editor of the Journal, Doylestown, Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right leg, shoulder and side. He says: "My right arm at times was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails." For sale by Wm. Pinniger.
Call at Harry Davis' Model store for your reading matter and if you can't find just what you want in that line, ask Harry and he will be only too pleased to procure for you the book wanted.
We have saved many doctor bills since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of my family or myself began to cough cold we begin to use the cough remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill, for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth.—D. S. MEARLE, General Merchant and Farmer, Mattie Bedford county, Pa. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.
It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) dairyman called at the drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

Stanford Must Work Hard to Defeat the University of Nevada.

As the date of the coming field day draws near the University boys realize that they will have a hard battle in the contest with the Stanford boys. Reports are received from California daily and it is said Stanford never turned out a better track team than the present one. The California boys also expect a hard battle and will not come to Reno, as reported with a "sure thing" feeling. On the contrary, they expect a hard battle. Their men are all in perfect condition.
Manager W. W. Hunter, alias "Fat," has been untiring in his efforts to make this field day the best ever held in Nevada, and has lost no opportunity to advertise it.
Tickets are on sale in every store in Reno. The admission price has been placed within the reach of all, and every body who has the interest of athletics at heart should attend the meeting of the two teams.
In fact the whole team is deserving of much praise for the conscientious manner in which they have trained. Few people outside of the University realize the many sacrifices that must be made in order to train properly for an event of this character. Love of school is always paramount and all students are willing to forego anything in order to see their University colors wave over a defeated antagonist.
The Stanford boys will arrive in Reno tomorrow morning. The University cadet band, accompanied by a choice delegation of rooters selected for the occasion will be at the depot to greet the visitors.
Buses will be run to the fair ground and a special rate of 25 cents for the round trip has been arranged for. Accommodation for 2,000 people has been made at the track and no one will be disappointed with the sport.

Bad Man Gone Wrong Again.
The saying "once a thief, always a thief," was again illustrated yesterday, when William Short was arrested for purloining an overcoat from in front of a clothing house on Virginia street. Short has just completed a six-months' sentence in the county jail for stealing some shoes from a box-car last October.
The evidence in his last crime seems conclusive, and it looks as if William has another term in jail staring him in the face. Verily, the way of the transgressor is hard.

Nevada's Knowledge Sought.
Professor R. H. McDowell of the Nevada experiment station is in receipt of a letter from Prof. E. J. Wickham of the University of California, asking permission to use the article cuts of Bulletin 41, issued some time ago, for publication in the Pacific Rural Press.
The bulletin referred to is the work of Professor McDowell, and is the result of experiments made by him in stock feeding. It is a well prepared affair, and will surely prove of benefit to stock raisers of neighboring States.

THE POT SIMMERS

Local Politicians Wonder Where the Political Lightning Will Strike.

The local political pot has commenced to sizzle and our politicians are commencing to wonder where they are at. The Republican County Central Committee meets this evening. This, of course, does not denote much to the casual observer.
However, an ex-politician of San Francisco, sojourning temporarily in Reno, last evening said that Nevada is about to enter upon one of the hardest political battles in the history of the Sagebrush State.
"Wallace has not been purchasing mines in Washoe county for the love of mining. He never was a miner, but a shrewd politician never lived, and, mark my word, if mines are started by him in this county, Wallace will run your politics. I speak from experience, for I have known the 'Black Man' for a number of years.
"There will be four tickets in the field competing for honors, and three of them will make a life or death fight. I cannot foretell at this moment which side will win, unless the people take it into their heads to down bossism. If they do the rule of Wallace is ended."
Several aspirants for county honors have already made themselves known. B. O. Shearer is in the field, if his friends desire it, for renomination. It is also understood that Sheriff McInnis would not refuse a renomination.

WERE HEELED FOR BEAR

A Well-Armed Bunch of Filthy Humanity Stowed Away in the Bastile.

Our local constabulary yesterday morning gathered in the toughest lot of hobos that has been seen in Reno for many moons. There were five of them and each bore the stamp of a criminal of the worst type upon his countenance. The bunch was gathered in some place in the railroad yards and when searched in the Justice Court a stock of guns, ammunition, razors and knives were found on them that would be envied by a Filipino.
They all offered a good excuse for being alive, but could not explain the presence of their death dealing property, which, by the way, included about three quarts of alcohol.
After hearing their story, Justice Linn concluded they would disgust the inmates of Sheriff McInnis' hotel by their presence. They were given twenty minutes' notice to leave town, and the last seen of them they were headed for the land of sunshine, oranges and good jails—California.

My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Blacksmiths Strike.

Before noon today the S. P. Co. blacksmith shop was deserted, the men taking off their aprons and leaving in a body. They unanimously say they were and have been for some time past uniformly spoken to and ordered about by Foreman Wilson as if they were dogs. That he had outraged their manhood repeatedly until they could no longer bear it. That he ever has been brutally insulting and is without the instinct of a gentleman or the knowledge or experience of properly handling men. That he is surly and ignorantly domineering. That he has great capacity for stinging, insulting sarcasm of the low order. That they could ill afford to lose their positions, but would sooner starve than serve under him. The general impression among railroad men not influenced is that Mr. Wilson is not qualified for the position he holds by reason of his manner in particular. There is small doubt it would bear mending.—Wadsworth Dispatch.
